Innovation, Quality, and Safety Continue to Be Our Hallmarks

Hartford Hospital and the entire healthcare industry have been challenged in so many ways. In 2016 we saw tremendous cuts at the state level and now face great uncertainty on the federal side. But through it all Hartford Hospital has continued our transformational work with incredible skill and compassion. As the tertiary care facility within Hartford HealthCare, we have remained agile, staying ahead of the curve in innovation, quality, and safety. And we have begun to focus on creating a world-class patient experience with our platform: Every Moment Matters.

As the hospital that other hospitals in the state turn to for the highest-quality care for their most challenging patients, we continue to step up to the call. Our Transfer Center volume in FY 2016 was 6,131 compared with 5,614 in FY 2015, 4,642 in FY 2014, 4,089 in FY 2013, and 3,418 in FY 2012. Life Star transports have grown over the past year as well.

Our efforts to be the region’s best and most important hospital have not gone unnoticed. U.S. News & World Report once again named Hartford Hospital the top hospital in the region, and among the best in the nation, with high performance in diabetes and endocrinology, gastroenterology and GI surgery, nephrology, orthopedics, and pulmonology. Becker’s Hospital Review placed us among the Top 100 hospitals in the nation. For the 21st consecutive year, the National Research Corp. honored us with the Consumer Choice Award for best quality, image, and reputation. Life Star became the first air-medical, critical-care transport team in the nation to receive the prestigious American Association of Critical-Care Nurses Beacon Award for Excellence, an award traditionally given to hospital intensive care units. And the American College of Surgeon’s National Surgical Quality Improvement Program recognized us for meritorious outcomes for surgical patient care.

One of our biggest projects, the implementation of the Epic electronic health record (EHR), went live in August, enabling us to have one patient record for every patient throughout the Hartford HealthCare system. It was a monumental task, requiring an enormous amount of training for staff members already extremely busy caring for a high volume of very sick patients. The successful deployment of the electronic health record earned a 5 out of 5 rating from Epic for outstanding implementation.

We are always striving for ways to improve patient outcomes and the overall health of our communities. An important step Hartford HealthCare has taken in the process is the development of an institute model of care that brings together all aspects of disease management and wellness in a highly coordinated fashion. We have recruited very strong leadership and are seeing success on many fronts with this model of clinical care. We are breaking down the traditional silos and bringing true value to our patients and their families and greater satisfaction to our staff for the work we are able to do.

Fiscal 2016 was indeed a year of great accomplishments at Hartford Hospital. Throughout, your support has been invaluable. As we move forward in 2017 in an ever-changing healthcare landscape, we are sincerely grateful that you are with us.

Surgical Quality Improvement Program recognized us for meritorious outcomes for surgical patient care.

Generous Community Inspires Excellence

Thanks to charitable gifts from donors like you, amazing work continues to happen at Hartford Hospital. More than $8.7 million in gifts and new pledges was raised in FY 2016 through the generosity of our friends, grateful patients and families, Corporators, board members, volunteers, and Hartford Hospital employees.

You have helped us thrive in an environment of economic challenges and continuous change.

With this Honor Roll of Donors—as we recognize those who have partnered with us to improve the health and healing of the people and communities we serve—we recognize some of the accomplishments your gifts have enabled, including:

The lead phase of the Campaign for Hartford Hospital continued to increase access to care and strengthen the health of our community. Under the leadership of Chair George Estes, the campaign reached $50.3 million by the end of the fiscal year on September 30, and surpassed $62 million early in 2017. Gifts to the campaign have supported capital improvements throughout our campus, including strategic initiatives such as the expansion of the Center for Education, Simulation and Innovation; the development of the Ayer Neuroscience Institute, among others.

A ribbon-cutting ceremony for the Hartford HealthCare Bone & Joint Institute culminated years of planning and construction. The capstone of the Campaign for Hartford Hospital, the Bone & Joint Institute was unveiled for the public in November.

Welcoming its first patients in early 2017, New England’s only orthopedic specialty hospital offers an immense range of surgical procedures, new technologies, and amenities in one location.

The 2016 Black & Red marked a quarter century of community support of the programs critical to the well-being of our patients. The 25th gala netted a total of $1,040,000 to benefit the Bone & Joint Institute, making it the fifth consecutive year that the hospital’s signature fund-raiser netted more than $1 million for its chosen beneficiary.

And the Hartford Hospital Auxiliary is deserving of special thanks for its ongoing work to ensure that the hospital has the resources to improve programs and patient care. In FY 2016, the Auxiliary provided nearly $400,000 in grants for special projects as it raised funds to benefit the Brownstone Ambulatory Care Clinic and nursing education.

The generosity of our community is inspiring. In 2017, as we continue to advance patient care and safety through initiatives that include increasing our critical care bed capacity and developing a phase 1 cancer clinical trials unit at the HartfordHealthCare Cancer Institute’s Helen & Harry Gray Cancer Center, we offer are sincere gratitude for your support through the years.

Volunteer services reported 94,202 hours from 1,037 volunteers in 240 areas of the organization from October 2015 to September 2016.

Volunteers’ contribution of time is equivalent to 47 full-time employees.

Contribution of time in dollars is equal to $2.6 million based on a dollar value as assigned by the Independent Sector.

44,000 hours were served in direct patient care roles by 655 volunteers.

76 teen volunteers completed our summer program in 2016.

54 volunteers serve annually on hospital advisory boards.

22 Hartford Hospital employees volunteered during their off-work time, contributing 618 hours to programs that enhance the patient experience and offer opportunities to engage employees beyond their work day.

Hartford Hospital pet therapy teams contributed 3,400 hours of service to our patients and staff.

61 percent of the volunteer workforce is female. The median age of a Hartford Hospital volunteer (for those who provided dates of birth) is 39. 4 percent of our current volunteers are over the age of 60.

Our oldest active volunteer is 92.

4 active volunteers have served greater than 60 years each.

Volunteer Services received 2,053 applications in FY 2016.

Rohit Makol of South Windsor is not your typical Hartford Hospital volunteer. The University of Connecticut sophomore has been spending his summers volunteering at the hospital since 2013, logging more than 700 hours to date, which is a lot considering Volunteer Services’ VolunTeen program requires a minimum of only 48 hours each summer.

Makol, who plans to attend medical school, isn’t one for minimums, however. “I am motivated by the idea that I can be better and do better,” he says. “It’s important to put your heart into anything that you pick up. … I know the first year I volunteered, I pretty much developed a routine of going to my shift, eating lunch, going back to my shift, and then going home. The following summer, I made an effort to greet people, help out strangers, and sit and talk to other volunteers during lunch. Doing all these things made the experience so much more rewarding and enjoyable.”

There are over 200 volunteer positions available throughout the hospital. The Summer VolunTeen Program accepts students 14 to 18 years old who are in high school or are new graduates with a GPA of 3.0 or higher. They must be available to volunteer for at least six of the eight-week program, contributing a minimum of eight hours per week.

The commitment is substantial considering the attraction of the long carefree days of summer or the opportunity to earn money. But for students like Makol, volunteering is invaluable.

“T he positive atmosphere and environment at Hartford Hospital are things that you don’t always find in other hospitals,” he says. “Even before you enter the doors, you are greeted by upbeat valet people. At the front desk, you have receptionists who are always smiling, security personnel who are really friendly and are ready to help you find your location, and passers-by who always say ‘Hi.’”

He spent his first summer at the hospital working as a peripatetic clerk in Jefferson Building and with medical records at the Brownstone Clinic. He has worked at the Center for Education, Simulation and Innovation, a highlight of which was participating in active shooter drills with SWAT teams: “It was an amazing experience.” And he enjoyed interacting with patients at the new Bone & Joint Institute.

“T he worked as an OR side, which was really cool because I got to wear scrubs and deliver blood packs to the OR. I helped out the main desk a lot, made announcements on the intercom, and helped anesthesia supply restock their supply room. I also worked with the Dialysis Department. These jobs allowed me to see many different things at the hospital.”

Because of his positive approach, in 2015 he was selected as one of the five shift leaders for the VolunTeen program.

“T he shift leader role was implemented in 2015 to assist in the running of the summer VolunTeen program,” said Eileen Pelletier, director of Volunteer Services. “I wanted to make the program more manageable in terms of staff time. In fact, the role allowed me to add additional features to the program.”

Shift leaders assist with everything from interviewing potential new volunteers for the program to providing oversight of educational sessions to mentoring other summer volunteers to functioning as a liaison between hospital staff and the high school volunteers.

To be chosen for the shift leader role, students must have completed at least 50 hours of volunteer service at Hartford Hospital, have a current GPA of 3.0 or higher, be in good standing with the program, and possess excellent interpersonal communication skills and as well as computer skills.

I was surprised by the amount of flexibility that comes with the shift leader job,” Makol says. “As long as you are on top of your duties, there are a lot of opportunities to pursue projects alongside your regular duties. I decided that I wanted to help put together a yearbook and music video. After we got approval for the project, we were able to make the summer experience a lot more enjoyable for our VolunTeens.”

“Volunteering has made me feel empowered,” Makol says. “I met so many people, I have seen different parts to the hospital, and, most importantly, I have learned a great deal about myself. I love putting a smile on someone’s face and knowing that at the end of the day, I made a positive impact.”

Hartford Hospital pet therapy teams contributed 3,400 hours of service to our patients and staff.

The 1854 Society recognizes individuals whose planned gifts have been received or will someday accrue to Hartford Hospital. Planned gifts include bequests made through testamentary devices, such as wills, retirement plans, and revocable trusts, as well as lifetime gifts that provide income to donors and their beneficiaries. Life income gifts, such as charitable gift annuities, charitable remainder trusts, and the hospital’s Pooled Income Fund, typically involve the transfer of gift assets, immediate tax advantages and continuing income streams to the donor, with future distributions to the hospital for its general or specific charitable purposes. Thoughtful gift planning offers each person the opportunity to make an endowed gift that will continue to help the hospital for generations to come. We are deeply grateful to members of the 1854 Society and especially appreciative of their thoughtful commitment to the future financial well-being of Hartford Hospital. Their names are listed here as they requested at the time of their introduction to the 1854 Society.

With its mission of transforming care and promoting lifetime wellness, the Campaign for Hartford Hospital made great strides in advancing important clinical programs and strengthening the hospital’s facilities in FY 2016. Under the leadership of Chair George Estes and with the dedicated service of the members of the campaign’s Steering Committee, the lead phase of the campaign reached $50.3 million by the end of the fiscal year on September 30, and had surpassed $62 million early in 2017.

The Hartford HealthCare Bone & Joint Institute at Hartford Hospital was unveiled for the public in November. Assisting in the ribbon cutting are, from left, Doug Elliot, chair of the board of Directors of Hartford HealthCare’s Hartford Region; Elliot Joseph, chief executive officer, Hartford HealthCare; Luke Bronin, mayor of Hartford; Durgesh Nagarkatti, MD, Orthopedic Associates of Hartford; Jeffrey Flaks, president and chief operating officer, Hartford HealthCare; William Glucksmann, MD, Jefferson Radiology; Gordon Zimmermann, MD, Orthopedic Associates of Hartford; Courtland Lewis, MD, physician-in-chief, the Bone & Joint Institute; Stuart Markowitz, MD, president, Hartford Hospital; Ross Benthoen, MD, Orthopedic Associates of Hartford.

Campaign for Hartford Hospital Moves Innovation Forward

Critical Care Beds

The opening of the Bone & Joint Institute has enabled plans to increase capacity in the main hospital to progress. As orthopedic cases move to the new facility, nursing units are being realigned and surgical and neuroscience capacity is being expanded. The process, which began in January 2017 and is expected to be completed in July, will result in an increase in private rooms; updated critical care alignment; better co-horting of heart and vascular patients; and greater flexibility with Hartford Hospital staff.
With eight operating rooms, 48 private inpatient beds, and state-of-the-art rehabilitation services and equipment, Hartford HealthCare’s Bone & Joint Institute offers an unparalleled network of coordinated services for patients with musculoskeletal disorders and orthopedic injuries.

In recognition of the gift from Ramani and Louise Ayer, the neuroscience program was named the Ayer Neuroscience Institute. Louise and Ramani Ayer have been visionary leaders at the hospital for decades. Ramani Ayer, former CEO and chair of The Hartford, has played a central role in the strategic growth and development of the Hartford HealthCare system. He is a former chair of the Hartford Hospital Board of Directors and a founding member and former chair of the Hartford HealthCare Board of Directors.

In addition, the neuroscience program was the beneficiary of the 2017 Black & Red. Funds raised through the gala and the Campaign for Hartford Hospital will be used to further the vision of a nationally recognized neuroscience program offering innovative treatments and state-of-the-art care that integrates the entire continuum of care, including primary and specialty care, diagnostics, behavioral health, rehabilitation, and sub-specialty focus in the areas of epilepsy, stroke, movement disorders, hearing and balance, neurology, neuro oncology, sleep disorders, spine, neurosurgery, and pain management.

CESI

The Center for Education, Simulation and Innovation, which provided training for nearly 11,000 medical professionals and first responders in 2016, has grown nearly threefold with the completion of a 25,000-square-foot expansion. The three-story addition includes classrooms, a medical/surgical training suite, high-fidelity training rooms, a cadaveric training lab, and room for a rooftop helipad. The addition, which continues as a funding priority in the Campaign for Hartford Hospital, further differentiates the hospital as an international leader in medical technology and training.

Brownstone Clinic Relocation Project

Caring for the community at large in a setting that also provides medical education, the Brownstone Clinic has more than 75,000 patient visits a year for adult primary and specialty care, and for dental care. The clinic is central to the hospital’s mission of responding to the healthcare needs of our diverse community. The shell of a new Brownstone Clinic facility at 132-134 Jefferson Street was completed in 2016. With a $1 million grant from Travelers Cos. and $1 million from United Technologies Corp. narrowing a funding gap, plans are in place to complete the project.

Bone & Joint Institute Cancer Treatment Innovation Unit for Phase 1 Clinical Trials

As a charter member of the unprecedented Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Alliance, Hartford HealthCare Cancer Institute clinicians work with researchers and cancer experts at Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center to bring new, groundbreaking approaches to our patients as rapidly as possible and in Connecticut so that patients will not need to be separated from their home and families while undergoing cancer treatment. A key part of this model is the sharing of the over 800 cancer clinical trials available at Memorial Sloan Kettering, over half of which are early phase 1 studies. To bring these most promising and cutting-edge cancer fighting medicines under development to our community quickly and safely, the institute has undertaken plans to build a unit that will support safe and reliable implementation of phase 1 clinical trials. Gifts are being raised through the Campaign for Hartford Hospital to make the new unit possible and extend the hospital’s ability to deliver to our patients state-of-the-art treatment in Hartford while contributing to the advancement of cancer research. Hospital Corporators Jack Corroon and Bill Thomson are leading this special fund-raising effort.

Neuroscience

Hartford HealthCare is enhancing its neuroscience program to bring together expertise from throughout the system to provide the highest-quality care for the full spectrum of neurological diseases. Multimillion-dollar gifts from the Chase family and from Ramani and Louise Ayer are helping to advance Hartford HealthCare’s goal.

The Chase gift, recognized with the naming of the David and Rhoda Chase Family Movement Disorders Center, is helping to advance the center’s deep brain stimulation capabilities, the most complex surgical treatment for Parkinson’s disease; enhance other patient programs and services; and assist in the center’s geographic expansion. The gift also supports a neurology fellowship in movement disorders.

Ramani Ayer, former CEO and chair of The Hartford, has played a central role in the strategic growth and development of the Hartford HealthCare system. He is a former chair of the Hartford Hospital Board of Directors and a founding member and former chair of the Hartford HealthCare Board of Directors.

In addition, the neuroscience program was the beneficiary of the 2017 Black & Red. Funds raised through the gala and the Campaign for Hartford Hospital will be used to further the vision of a nationally recognized neuroscience program offering innovative treatments and state-of-the-art care that integrates the entire continuum of care, including primary and specialty care, diagnostics, behavioral health, rehabilitation, and sub-specialty focus in the areas of epilepsy, stroke, movement disorders, hearing and balance, neurology, neuro oncology, sleep disorders, spine, neurosurgery, and pain management.
Hartford Hospital gratefully acknowledges the following donors who have made commitments of more than $25,000 during the lead phase of the Campaign for Hartford Hospital through September 30, 2016.

Black & Red Celebrates Bone & Joint Institute & 25 Years of Community Support

The 2016 Black & Red celebrated a quarter century of Hartford Hospital accomplishments and recognized the community’s support of programs critical to our patients and our neighbors.

With nearly 1,200 guests filling all three floors of The Bushnell Center for the Performing Arts in Hartford on February 6, the gala netted a total of $1,040,000 to benefit the Hartford HealthCare Bone & Joint Institute at Hartford Hospital, which opened in December 2016. Bringing innovative, coordinated orthopedic and musculoskeletal care into one state-of-the-art facility is allowing for the modernization and renovation of space throughout the Hartford Hospital campus.
Fiscal 2016 was another incredibly successful year for the Hartford Hospital Auxiliary, with many diverse accomplishments to be proud of.

Golf Tournament
The 27th annual Auxiliary Golf Tournament held at Tumble Brook Country Club in Bloomfield in September was an outstanding event despite the rain, netting nearly $400,000. The tournament beneficiary, the Department of Nursing Education and Research, received $150,000, which will be used to refurbish nursing education rooms in the Education Resource Center on Hudson Street. The balance of the proceeds was allocated for special purpose grants.

Considered one of the finest charity outings in the region, the Auxiliary’s tournament has raised over $1 million over the past three years.

Rx for Fun
Rx for Fun was held in April, at the new Prospect Café in West Hartford. The Center for Education, Simulation and Innovation (CESI) was the beneficiary and received a $10,000 donation from the Auxiliary.

Scholarships
The Auxiliary honored a longtime member and hospital volunteer with the naming of one of the Sons and Daughters Scholarships as the Hazel Vail Scholarship. The scholarship is for $10,000 and represents the board’s largest scholarship. It is given annually to a son or daughter of a Hartford Hospital employee.

Hazel Vail has been a fixture at Hartford Hospital for nearly 30 years, volunteering her time in many capacities. She graduated in 1944 from Oxford School (now Kingswood-Oxford). She received a bachelor’s from Russell Sage College in 1948 and a master’s from Trinity College in 1952. She taught school for six years, including one year in Paris. Upon retirement in 1991 from Cigna (formerly Connecticut General)—where she spent 37 years as a financial analyst—she decided to join the Hartford Hospital Auxiliary Board as a way to give back to the community and to have a positive impact at Hartford Hospital. She served the board in many capacities over 25 years, including as assistant treasurer, treasurer, membership chair, and special projects. She has also served the hospital as a volunteer at the information desk, in the Emergency Department, and as a Eucharistic minister. In spring 2015, she retired from the board and now holds a regular volunteer post with Volunteer Services.

Honor Roll of Donors
New donor levels have been added to the Honor Roll of Donors.

Special Projects
The Auxiliary awarded nearly $200,000 for other notable projects in FY 2016. Approved for funding in fall 2015 and spring 2016, the projects reflect the Auxiliary’s strong commitment to the hospital, patients, and the community. The projects include:

- $15,000 to CESI for Premature Annie, a 25-week preterm manikin designed to facilitate the training of healthcare professionals in the proper care of preterm infants
- $23,000 to Radiation Oncology for a breast-hold device, which helps patients undergoing radiation for breast cancer to hold their breath while receiving treatment to minimize the damaging effects of radiation on nearby organs
- $23,439 to the Grace S. Webb School at the Institute of Living for sensory-based comfort rooms
- $26,504 to Anxiety Disorder Center at the Institute of Living for virtual reality treatment
- $167,000 to the new state-of-the-art Bone & Joint Institute for athletic equipment

Hazel Vail, center, has given Hartford Hospital decades of volunteer service. To recognize her dedication, the Auxiliary has named one of its scholarships the Hazel Vail Scholarship. The scholarship is for $10,000 and represents the board’s largest scholarship. It is given annually to a son or daughter of a Hartford Hospital employee.

Awards
The Young Leaders Advisory Council (YLAC) honored the Auxiliary for its support of the Brownstone Ambulatory Care Clinic. The Auxiliary has pledged $350,000 to the Brownstone Clinic. A portion of the funds is supporting the relocation of some clinic services to a new building at 132-138 Jefferson Street. The Brownstone Clinic has been located on Retreat Avenue for nearly 50 years. The relocation will provide clinic patients with a modern, accessible, efficient facility.

The Center for Education, Simulation and Innovation (CESI) received a $10,000 gift as the beneficiary of the Auxiliary’s 2016 Rx for Fun. With Auxiliary members Stephen Donahue, CESI program director

Blessing, love, joy, happiness, celebration, words that traditionally come with the announcement of a new baby. But when a new mother says words like overwhelmed, angry, sad, confused, irritated, guilty, those feelings on the entire family can be serious and all may need some level of support or treatment.

About 1 in 9 women experiences postpartum depression, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Heather Quinn understands how devastating postpartum mood disorders can be for the mother, the child, and the family. She suffered postpartum psychosis with the birth of her second child.

"For one year of my life, I was consumed in impulses to harm my baby and myself," she says. "Slowly I started realizing what I had been through and the wreckage all around me: a failing marriage, a child that I was just starting to like, getting off the meds, finding myself, forgiving myself, and realizing the effect all of this had on my husband. In my son's third year of life, I started to find myself again."

"My husband, Jeff, and I went through it completely alone," says Quinn, who lives in Durham and works for Hartford HealthCare. "As we started to talk more openly about what we were experiencing there was nowhere for me or my husband to go and no one was reaching out offering reasoning, support, or even acknowledgment of what we were going through."

Meagan O'Connell Fazio experienced different but no less agonizing symptoms. "I had never heard of postpartum anxiety and the only thing I really knew about postpartum depression was that 'you don't bond with your baby,'" she says. "Fortunately did not have that symptom. Instead I had weeks of crippling anxiety and panic attacks, as well as depression that was so debilitating my mother had to move in with us to help take care of me. I knew something was seriously wrong, but I didn't know what."

Fazio, who lives in West Hartford, says she visited several doctors and tried different medications, but nothing helped. Finally, she was admitted to the Day Hospital at Women and Infants Hospital in Providence, R.I. "For nine days, my son and I spent about six hours each day at the hospital with other mothers and babies."

When I went to the hospital, I was hopeless about the future and barely able to care for myself. When I left, I was looking forward to the rest of my life with my baby and was confident I was the best mother I could be."

Although postpartum mood disorders are the most common complications of childbirth, they are often misunderstood, stigmatized, and kept as a deep dark secret.

"To help change that and to help fill the void in local services that Fazio and Quinn experienced, the Institute of Living (IOL) launched the Peripartum Mood Disorders Program in the fall of 2015 with assistance through a grant from Hartford Foundation for Public Giving."

"The OBY/GYN department, spearheaded by Dr. Sheila Gately and Dr. Jack Greene, came to us three years ago asking us to do something that would be organized specifically for the care of these mothers," says Arthur Guerra, APRN-BC, who serves as the clinical director for the program and notes it is important to treat not only mothers, but also fathers who may be at risk during the perinatal period. The Peripartum Mood Disorders Program helps to identify and address the needs of moms who may suffer from anxiety, depression, or other mental health problems.

"Without the organized systematic approach that the Hartford Foundation for Public Giving helped us start," Guerra says, "there wouldn't be adequate specialization, time, or focus to address this significant adult health problem."

Postpartum mood disorders can arise from the combination of the hormonal changes that occur during and after pregnancy, psychological adjustment to motherhood, and fatigue. Depression in the peripartum period is associated with preterm birth, low birth weight, and an abnormal fetal heart rate. In the long run, children of depressed mothers have been found to have impaired cognitive and emotional abilities. Risk factors for peripartum depression include prior depression, poor social support, poor quality of intimate relationship, and negative life events.

Since the IOL began offering services through the Peripartum Mood Disorders Program, “there has been a constant flow of moms who have come in with pain and we have reduced their burden,” Guerra says. Treatment includes comprehensive psychiatric evaluations, medication management, and individual/family psychotherapy. Other important treatment options include mother-infant attachment assessment and treatment in collaboration with the IOL’s Child/Adolescent Department.

Quinn and Fazio can see the challenges of motherhood more clearly these days. Quinn’s son is now 6. Fazio’s son is 4. Both mothers speak publicly about their experiences with postpartum mood disorders in an effort to help other mothers who are suffering.

Fazio offers some advice: “Don’t be afraid to admit something isn’t right,” she says. “Don’t be afraid to ask for help. Don’t be afraid to fight if that help is not enough. It will be difficult, but I promise that you and your baby are worth it.”

YLAC Sets Record as It Helps Care for Community

Hartford Hospital’s Young Leaders Advisory Council (YLAC) marked a year of growth with a record-setting gift of more than $22,000 to the Brownstone Ambulatory Care Clinic. The funds, which were raised through the organization’s signature event Spring Into Action, held at Hot Tomato’s in Hartford in May 2016, helped the clinic purchase medical equipment.

In addition to raising money for the Brownstone Clinic, Spring Into Action celebrated the Hartford Hospital Auxiliary and Scott Merkelson, DMD. Both received the YLAC Spring Into Action Award for their support of the clinic. The Auxiliary has donated $350,000 to the clinic over the past two years. Merkelson was honored for more than 40 years of outstanding volunteer service at the clinic. He became a volunteer attending in the general dentistry section of the Department of Dentistry in 1975 and has volunteered over 4,000 hours at the clinic since then, helping to train well over 100 residents.

The Brownstone Clinic serves the community’s most vulnerable population—those with limited or no access to healthcare. It has over 57,000 visits annually for adult primary, specialty, and dental care.

In addition to a successful Spring Into Action, YLAC broke ground on a few other fronts in FY 2016.

Annual Meeting Marks Milestone

In the fall, YLAC members celebrated the organization’s first five years with an Inaugural Annual Meeting. The breakfast meeting drew 54 members and guests who came together to network with one another and to learn more about YLAC’s goals.

With a Facebook group established over the summer, YLAC membership has a new line of communication, where upcoming events notices, photos from YLAC events as well as newsworthy notices from Hartford Hospital at large are shared. The group went live on LinkedIn as well.

Under the leadership of the Community Involvement Committee, chaired by Stephanie Frazao, YLAC members collected baby items to help families in the Nurturing Connections Program at Hartford Hospital. The program links new parents to volunteers and others who may provide education and support that can help them adjust to the many demands of parenthood. The families are provided with critical information beginning while the mother is pregnant or while the mother and baby are still in the hospital. Over the 2015 holiday season, YLAC members donated and collected items ranging from clothing and blankets to toiletries and toys for families who receive support from program.

YLAC members also supported the hospital by assisting with Volunteer Services’ summer volunteer program for high school students. Members helped to interview applicants and planned and facilitated a resume/interview workshop held in August.

In addition to the student volunteers, YLAC members assisted students in need from Greater Hartford through the Institute of Living’s backpack and school supplies drive, donating items like backpacks, markers, notebooks, and pens and pencils.

Adding to organization’s busy agenda were a breakfast and a lunch-and-learn series with hospital leadership. The group also held numerous networking events.

In addition to a successful Spring Into Action, YLAC broke ground on a few other fronts in FY 2016.

Hartford Hospital’s Young Leaders Advisory Council is made up of early- to mid-career professionals in the Hartford region who serve as ambassadors of Hartford Hospital. They strive to educate an upcoming generation about Hartford Hospital’s innovative programs and services, as well as involve and cultivate emerging community leaders with an affinity for the hospital. Members come from a wide range of industries, including the nonprofit sector, insurance, finance, law, health care, and others.

With each Honor Roll of Donors, Hartford Hospital pays tribute to friends who passed away during the fiscal year. Each person included on the list that follows devoted themselves to Hartford Hospital and its mission in their own unique way. Some served as Hartford Hospital Corporators, board members, or committee members; others as longtime staff members; and others as generous donors and volunteers.

On this occasion, as we offer our sincerest sympathy to the families and friends of those Hartford Hospital and our region lost in FY 2016, we extend our deepest gratitude for their legacy of service to our community.

42 / Hartford Hospital, 2016

43 / Honor Roll of Donors /
FY 2016 was a banner year for the community groups that support Hartford Hospital. Through their hard work and creativity, community organizations raised more than $1 million in the fiscal year, directly affecting the care the hospital provides. Gifts from community groups support services that otherwise might not be possible, care for the most vulnerable in our region, and innovative technologies that benefit all we serve.

Hartford Hospital is fortunate to be surrounded by a dedicated and generous community. We are grateful for the support of the committed and eager volunteers who take time out of their schedules to raise money for our programs and services. The following are some of the community organizations and events that annually support Hartford Hospital.

The ERRACE organization was created by a group of professionals striving to raise awareness about cancer, raise funds for cancer research, and to inspire the community to be active and health conscious. The event—which features a 5K walk/run, a 25-mile ride, a 50-mile ride, and a 100-mile ride—is held annually in July.

Brownstone Clinic on Track for 2018 Opening

The Brownstone Ambulatory Care Clinic, currently located on Retreat Avenue, is central to Hartford Hospital’s mission of responding to the healthcare needs of our community. The shell of a new facility at 132-134 Jefferson Street that will house some clinic services was completed in 2016. With leading grants from Travelers Cos. and United Technologies Corp., and support from the Hartford Foundation for Public Giving, the Hartford Hospital Auxiliary, and generous individual donors helping to narrow a funding gap, plans are in place to complete the project. A ribbon cutting is projected for 2018.
